The event you all heard about is back...

Last year we hosted a very successful Women's Celebration "Kick Up Your Heels". We have been planning this year's event and are very excited about it! The afternoon will be full of great entertainment, good food, fabulous Silent Auction and wonderful company. Here is our line-up:

Once again we are thrilled to have the talented

BARB POLLARD AS OUR EMCEE

Many of you will know Barb from the Vancouver productions of
"Mom's the Word" and Mom's the Word – Unhinged"

We are over the top with excitement to announce:

IVAN SAYER – FASHION HISTORIAN

Presenting:

*"The Gradual Emancipation of Women from Restrictive Clothing and
The Parallel to Social and Political Emancipation"*

Ivan is a self-proclaimed fashion historian. He is considered to have one of the best collections of vintage clothing and accessories dating as far back as the 1800s. His real joy is public speaking and coordinating historical fashion shows. Ivan believes that there is so much more to fashion than just pretty dresses. "The real issue is human liberation, and people living up to their human potential. We use the issue of women's physical emancipation to prove a point. So you take something very commonplace and make it thought provoking." Come join us as Ivan takes us from the days of corsets up to modern times.
